

National Coaching Certification Program

The National Coaching Certification Program (NCCP) is an essential aspect for becoming the best coach you can possibly be. Whether you are coaching a community team or coaching a national team, an NCCP workshop will be beneficial for you.

Check out the Requirements section of the Volleyball Canada website to see which coach education pieces are required for Club Provincial or National Championships.

Check out the Pathways section of the Volleyball Canada website to see all the steps needed to become fully certified in your coaching context.

Any NCCP course is delivered by four (4) different partners:

- Volleyball Canada
- Provincial / Territorial Volleyball Associations
- Coaching Association of Canada
- Provincial / Territorial Coaching Organizations

The Pathways section below provides helpful information to guide you through the process.

Development Coach

The Development Coach program is the primary entry point for most coaches in the volleyball community. The course supports coaches working in the Train to Train stage or the age groups of 13-16.

Advanced Development Coach

The Advanced Development Coach program is designed for coaches working with athletes in the Learn to Compete LTAD stage or 17-18 age category. The course expands on knowledge and skills learned in the Development Coach context and applies advanced training methods.

Performance Coach

The Performance Coach program is designed for coaches working with athletes in the Train to Compete stage and most often the 18-22 age group. The workshop is also recommended for Advanced Development Certified coaches seeking additional coach education in the area of Performance Analysis.
